Juliet Gellatley, Viva! Campaigns' founder & director, comforts an ill pig at Hogwood Farm

VISIONS FROM HELL

Viva!'s shocking undercover footage at Hogwood farm reveals heart-breaking scenes – extreme overcrowding; routine mutilations; cruel farrowing crates; filthy and waterlogged floors; sick and dying pigs; piles of decaying, maggot-infested piglets; and skulls and bones in nearby woods.

Pig skulls were discovered dumped near the farm

The farm's vet approved this hell-hole, Tesco approved it, the Red Tractor 'assurance scheme' approved it and so did the Government. It tells us all we need to know about the state of animal welfare in Britain today. The best in the world? What a sick joke. Thousands of farms, millions of animals and when we file cruelty complaints with video evidence, mostly we don't even get a reply.

Tesco is one of Hogwood's customers and therefore shares the guilt – they can't continue to close ranks and cry 'Cruelty? What cruelty?'

Supermarket welfare assurances are meaningless.

Tell Tesco to dump Hogwood; tell the Government to close it down. Add your voice to ours
